

Senate Gives Indications Of Approval On Security Pact

By JACK BELL
Washington, Mar. 19 (AP)—A cautious Senate, aware that it soon will be asked to underwrite a historic change in American policy, gave general signs of approval today for the proposed North Atlantic Security Pact.

Presented by Secretary of State Acheson as an answer to the "intolerable threat" which would be posed by an aggressor's control of Europe, the proposed agreement earned praise—and some criticism—from senators who will help decide whether it ever becomes effective.

Many members—most of them taking their first look at the instrument designed to bind the Western world together against attack by Russia or any other nation—obviously accepted it as about the last hope for world peace.

Some Fingers Crossed
Some, like Senator Douglas (D-Ill.), predicted that if it becomes binding Russia will never move aggressively against a member nation.

Others, reluctant to depart from the American tradition against European alliances, indicated they will go along with fingers crossed.

Some, like Senator Byrd (D-Va.), said the proposed treaty must not carry with it any commitment that this country will pay for rearming Western Europe.

Others, like Senator Malone (R-Nev.), charged the agreement would take out of the hands of Congress the decision on when this country will go to war.

"An Intolerable Threat"

Acheson tried to answer some of these arguments in advance in a radio speech last night in which he declared that "control of Europe by a single aggressive, unfriendly power would constitute an intolerable threat to the national security of the United States."

The Secretary, making his first major policy pronouncement, said that if free nations do not stand together in some such agreement as that proposed, "they will fall one by one."

He said "the stratagem of the aggressor is to keep his intended victims divided, or better still to set them quarreling among themselves," so they can be picked off, one by one.

He added: "We and the free nations of Europe are determined that history shall not repeat itself in that melancholy particular."

Assailed By Russians

An English-language broadcast from Moscow by Commentator J. Lemin said the pact "is designed to unleash war against the Soviet Union and the people's democracies."

The Russian army newspaper in Vienna said it is intended "for aggression against the Soviet Union."

Like Acheson, the foreign secretaries of the other nations which negotiated the alliance had nothing but praise for it. British Foreign Minister Bevin called it a "most famous, historical undertaking."

French Foreign Minister Schuman said it provided his country with an effective shield against aggression.

In New York, Warren Austin, United States delegate to the United Nations, said he is "strongly persuaded" that the pact conforms with the United Nations Charter.

The treaty was negotiated by the United States, Canada, Britain, France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. Norway joined the talks late, and other nations such as Denmark, Italy and Portugal have been invited to sign.

The Italian Chamber of Deputies voted in favor of doing so after a tumultuous session yesterday which followed a 53-hour Communist filibuster. Italy's Senate begins debate on the pact Monday.

COURT DIRECTS JAIL BE SOLD AT PUBLIC SALE

The Adams county court today directed that the county jail on East High street be sold at public sale.

That decision was reached following a brief hearing on the petition of the county commissioners asking approval to sell the jail to the Adams County Free Library at private sale.

Testimony in court Monday led the court to believe there was a possibility that a local man might have been prevented from bidding on the jail due to a misunderstanding. The court then continued the hearing on the petition until today.

William M. Lott and Calvin A. Cluck, of the Library board, appeared before the court this morning in an attempt to clarify the situation and agreed with the court that the best method of selling, to clear the library of any suspicion that it might be involved in a "deal," would be to sell the jail at a public sale.

Clears Library Board

The court added that "There is no doubt in my mind of the attitude of the library board. I know that the library board members never intended to do anything improper."

The problem arose when Stover Small, East High street, approached the board, through an attorney, concerning the sale of the jail.

COURT DIRECTS

(Continued from Page 1) cerning the possibility of purchasing a part of the land in the jail property from the library if the latter was successful in purchasing the jail. Members of the board said that no agreement of any kind had been made with Mr. Small concerning any possible sale, but the court held that there was a possibility of small withholding a bid on the property if he could obtain some assurance that he could buy the portion he wishes from the library. As a result the petition to sell at private sale could not be permitted the court said. The court and the board members agreed that if the property is sold at public sale and the library board is the successful bidder it will be evident that there are "no strings attached to the purchase."

To Advertise Sale That the public sale will be held in the very near future was indicated in the court's discussion of the law governing such sale with the solicitor of the commissioners Attorney Eugene V. Bullett. Three advertisements of the date of the sale will precede the actual day or which it is held.

TALK SECESSION IN W. VIRGINIA

Wheeling, W. Va., March 19 (AP)—Some residents of West Virginia's panhandle are a little irked — so much so, in fact, they're in favor of seceding and flying the Keystone flag of Pennsylvania.

The trouble, it seems, is the problem of constructing a new bridge over the Ohio river here. Two bridges span the stream now but both are in poor condition.

This week the 49th West Virginia legislature adjourned—without taking action to build a new bridge. Some West Virginians say the negative action left them "out in the cold."

Mayor Carl B. Bachman, said he hasn't made up his mind on the secession question, but added: "That's the way our forefathers did when they were dissatisfied with the government they lived under."

I. I. Mendleson, a Wheeling businessman, said frankly: "I'd take Pennsylvania any day." The same sentiment was echoed by Librarian Carolyn Hansen.

Bullets Face Albright For Tournament Title Tonight; Rally To Beat Dutchmen 77-67

Tonight at approximately 9:30 o'clock on the Palestra floor, Philadelphia, Coach "Hen" Bream's Gettysburg college courtmen will clash with Albright for the 1949 Middle Atlantic conference basketball championship. In a regular season game played here the Bullets downed Albright, 70-61.

That setup resulted Friday evening when the Bullets turned aside a rugged Lebanon Valley team, 77-67 while Albright downed Wagner, 58-50 in the semi-final games, also played at the Palestra.

The Bullets encountered plenty of trouble in turning back the Flying Dutchmen and were forced to overcome a 63-58 lead early in the last period.

Gettysburg got off to an early lead. After Kinsella and Bob O'Brien landed a pair of foul shots Ross Sachs added a goal and Harry Pure a goal and foul for a Bullet 7-2 lead. Langstaff added two fouls for the Dutchmen before Bucky Harris netted two free tosses, the first of his 26 points for the contest. Goals by Becker and DiJohnson shaved Gettysburg's margin to 9-8 but O'Brien came through with a goal and foul for the Bullets. A one-hander by DiJohnson and pair of twin-pointers by Kinsella put Lebanon Valley in front, 14-12. Harris and Sachs, the latter who netted 18 points, gave Gettysburg a 19-15 advantage at the quarter.

Dutchmen Take Lead
After the Bullets went ahead early in the second quarter 25-20 through the efforts of Harris and Sachs, Lebanon Valley moved ahead, 34-32, largely due to eight points by Kinsella. Becker landed a set shot and Belber converted a foul shot as the half ended with the Dutchmen in front, 36-33.

The Dutchmen maintained their lead in the third period and led 61-55 going into the final period.

Lebanon Valley lost Brunner, Langstaff and DiJohnson late in the third period and early in the fourth quarter via personal fouls and the Bullets took advantage to go on a scoring spree of 10 straight points to pull the game from the fire. Harris and O'Brien sparked the Bullets to a rally. Four of the Gettysburg players played the last period with four personal fouls while Plechner was banished near the end of the game with his fifth foul.

Shooting Accurate
Harris made 50 per cent of his shots to amass his 26-point total while Ross Sachs missed but two shots from the field. Becker's long set shooting featured for the Dutchmen while Kinsella and Langstaff were effective under the boards.

Albright piled up a big early lead to withstand a Wagner spurt in the first two and one-half minutes of the final period which was good for 12 points, and won out 58-50. Wagner's spurt had cut the Lions lead to 52-50.

Wagner and Lebanon Valley will play for third place in the opener this evening at 8 o'clock.

BULLETS HAVE NUCLEUS FOR STRONG TEAM

Coach Ira Plank, embarking on his 34th year as head baseball coach at Gettysburg college, is entertaining hopes of coming up with another top notch ball club. The Bullets opened spring drills earlier this week.

A year ago the Bullet nine turned in its best record under Plank, posting 13 victories against two defeats. From that club the Bullets lost three men, Bud Ecker, ace catcher; Joe Cervino, second baseman, and rightfielder Dick Tome, by graduation. The remainder of the team will be back in action this season so that Coach Plank's principal worry will be replacing these key performers.

Veterans returning include Bill Atherholt, Glenoiden, at first; Howard Cauffman, Norristown, third; Ray Novak, Pittsburgh, shortstop; Tony Cervino, Haddon Heights, N. J., left field; Eugene Hummel, Harrisburg, center field; Walter Kirker, Harrisburg, who alternated in right with Tome a year ago.

The pitching prospects also look bright with three fine hurlers from last season returning, Bill Brown, from Audubon, N. J., and Ken Houtz, Swarthmore, and both right handers, along with Bill Buehler, who in 1948 proved effective as a relief man, form the nucleus of the mound staff.

The Plank-coached nine will open a 19-game schedule April 2 with Susquehanna at Gettysburg.

ALLENTOWN "5" LACES DELONE BY 57-41 SCORE

Allentown Central Catholic high school won the eastern state title in the state-wide Catholic school playoffs Friday evening by defeating Delone Catholic of McSherrystown 57-41 before approximately 1,000 fans in the Eddie Plank Memorial gymnasium at Gettysburg college.

Excepting for the first few minutes of play, Allentown held the lead throughout. The Vikings held a decision over Whitehall, dark horse in the PIAA playoffs.

The Squires drew first blood on a goal by Bob Gebhart but the score was quickly tied on Wieber's goal. Jim Kuhn gave Delone its last lead on a foul. Wofler, who collected 19 points for Allentown, put his team in front with a goal. Gebhart knotted the score at 4-all with a charity toss and then the Vikings tallied eight straight points before Staub looped a foul for the Adams countians. At the quarter Allentown led 14-9.

Wofler opened the second period with a goal and the Squires retaliated on a foul by Kuhn and goal by Staub after a minute of play. The Squires then fell behind 24-14 at the mid-point mark and at half time tallied 32-17.

Delone Spurts
Allentown maintained its margin in the third period although Coach Alex Bell's outfit fought valiantly to stem the tide and cut their opponents' margin to 35-28 midway in the quarter. Staub looped a pair of goals and foul while Smith and Gebhart were each good for a goal and foul for the Squires during the quarter which ended with Allentown in front 44-28. Wofler, who had looped eight goals and a foul in the first half, was limited to a goal and free throw during the period.

The final period was confined mostly to foul tossing as play grew rough. During the quarter Delone looped five of 15 free tosses while Allentown landed seven of 11.

Friday's victory marked the second time Allentown has defeated Delone in recent years for the eastern title. Back in 1943 Allentown 43-41 and went on to gain the state title.

The Vikings will now play the western titlists for the state championship on March 25 in a western area gymnasium.

Bill Staub paced Delone with 12 points in Friday's contest.

Training Camp Briefs

Clearwater, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Gran Hamner, who moved into the shortstop position when Eddie Miller was switched to second, continues to pace the Philadelphia Phillies in hitting.

With two bingles in the 9-8 loss to Cincinnati yesterday, Hamner now has a batting average of .406 in 13 hits in 32 tries in the exhibition games played by the Phillies to date.

Del Ennis, usually a top hitter, has made only one hit in 15 trips for a mark of .066.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Bobby Shantz, a little left-hander pitcher the Philadelphia Athletics brought up from Lincoln, Neb., is returning to Philadelphia for possible surgery. X-rays disclosed a spur on his left shoulder blade.

San Francisco, Calif., March 19 (AP)—San Francisco sports writers are getting a kick out of having the Pittsburgh Pirates here for their three-game series with the San Francisco Seals (PCL).

Three ex-Pirates are playing with the Seals—Catcher Leroy Jarvis, Pitcher Steve Nagy and Outfielder Arky Vaughan. The writers have nicknamed the Bucs "The Seals' National league farm club."

SAN FRANCISCO AND LOYOLA TO MEET IN FINALS

New York, March 19 (AP)—The wildest National Invitation Basketball tournament in its 12-year history comes to an end tonight, but the climax may seem almost tame.

The upset-riddled affair simply has run out of upsets.

The University of San Francisco and Loyola of Chicago meet in the finals. They've already done away with everybody who has anybody, or they've licked the guys who did.

No matter who wins this one, it can't be regarded as a genuine upset. Form has taken such a beating here this week that the only thing new would be for one team not to show up.

Carbon Copy Clubs
Although they hail from cities half a continent apart, the two finalists are almost carbon copy ball clubs. Each has a good big man, a smooth-working "quarterback" and a deliberate, possessive style of play.

But most important, in their three tournament games both teams have been one-man outfits. Loyola has rolled along because nobody has been able to hold down Jack Kerris for a full game. Bradley shackled him for the first half Thursday night and held a nine-point advantage at the intermission. Kerris broke loose in the second half and Loyola won by five points.

Don Lofgran, who matches Kerris' height of six feet, six inches, is San Francisco's man. Without him, the Dons wouldn't have survived the first round. He hit his peak in the semifinals with 24 points plus tremendous defensive work against Bowling Green.

Neither team has ever won the tournament for which St. Louis was the defending champion. The Billikens bowed out in the quarterfinals along with Kentucky, Utah and Western Kentucky, the other three seeded clubs.

Edelweiss, low growing flower of the high mountains of Switzerland, is protected by law because of its rarity.

League Playoffs Open On Tuesday

The first of the three-game series for the Community Basketball league championship will be held on the high school floor Tuesday evening.

At 8 o'clock the Texas Lunch, who finished first in the regular league season, clash with the second-place Motor Knights.

The same teams will play the second game of the series on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

As a preliminary game Tuesday evening the Shamrocks and Lentz legion will play at 7 o'clock.

er. The group decided to hold a rummage sale Saturday, March 19. Cookies have been ordered by the cookie chairman, Mrs. Howard Sharrah. The president, Mrs. Charles Kuhn, urged as many as possible to attend the monthly leaders meetings.

The meeting opened with the Brownie smile song and the Brownie promise. Girl Scout cookies were distributed for the Brownies to sell. I have also special anti-static powder in the inner tubes. What next?
—J. L., Jr.
A. You will probably find that the static is being generated by movement of your body and clothing on the seat covers. Try covers of a different type, or as a test take off the cover on the front seat cushion and see if the static doesn't disappear.
Q. I note that in the 1949 model of the car I drive the manufacturer has increased cooling capacity by one quart. If I could do the same I feel certain there would be no further tendency for the motor to over heat. Would installing another hot water heater give the increased capacity?—K. S. S.
A. It would not be as efficient as a larger radiator but it would solve your problem.
Q. The new tires on my car have an annoying habit of picking up driveway pebbles. This is most annoying around the city where I can't get up enough speed to toss them out of the treads.—J. M.
A. You will find that if you go around a corner rather sharply the treads will open up enough to release the pebbles.
Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 234 Fern street, West Hartford, 7, Connecticut, and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.
